

Person Specification : Conservation Tutor

ATTRIBUTES & EXPERIENCE	ESSENTIAL	DESIRABLE
1. Relevant Experience	Experience in the stone conservation area at a professional level working in a range of contexts Experience of presenting stone conservation subject specialist information through teaching	Proven expertise in the subject area evidenced through high level projects/ awards Experience in related specialist areas Experience in teaching at Higher Education level Experience of organising teaching sessions or workshops
2. Education and Training	Relevant Undergraduate Degree Relevant professional training	Teaching qualification Relevant postgraduate degree Health and Safety training First Aid Training
3. General & Specialised Knowledge	Knowledge of the current stone conservation specialist practices Awareness of the importance of Health and Safety as it applies to the Conservation teaching environment Knowledge of the social historical aspects of the discipline Working knowledge of IT and applications such as word or any relevant specialist programmes related to the subject	Scholarly knowledge of aspects of the history of the discipline with published outcomes Working knowledge of virtual learning environments such as Moodle
4. Skills, abilities and attributes	Ability to engage with students with a range of abilities and from diverse backgrounds Excellent communication skills Ability to work effectively within a team Ability to work independently, setting and achieving goals. Pro-active attitude and initiative, suggesting and developing viable new projects Adaptability and willingness to use initiative and suggest improvements in methods of working	